Dear (your daughter or son's name)

It is hard to believe that you are about to be confirmed. You have grown up to be a beautiful young lady (or handsome young man)!

God blessed us on (their birth date) by having you become a member of our family. I still remember how excited we were to have a (son or daughter).

At your baptism, your Godparents were honored to take the responsibility of helping to raise you in the Catholic Faith. We all took that responsibility seriously. It was a beautiful ceremony. You were dressed in a white gown and you did not cry when the Priest blessed you with water.

You have brought such joy to our lives. Over the years we have watched you change from a toddler to a young adolescent. You have always been inquisitive about mechanical objects. We love the energy you put into the activities you enjoy. You are so creative and your drawings are very well done.

Other suggested topics: hobbies, sports, friends, family

Positive attributes: curiosity, quick-witted, funny/humorous, responsible, caring, loving, etc.

(Name of son or daughter) continue to strive to be the best you can be.

Mistakes will happen but that is part of learning. That is why we celebrate the sacrament of Reconciliation. Remember that Jesus is your role model. He was baptized at the beginning of his public ministry. This was before Jesus performed miracles, healed the sick and taught the disciples. God told him that he was his beloved son. You are our beloved son or daughter.

The sacrament of Confirmation is a very big step in your Catholic Faith. You are now old enough to renew the vows of your baptism with the support of your godparents and parents. Make the best of the opportunities provided. We are so proud of you!

Love,

We hope this will give you some ideas to help you write your personal letter.

Thank you for making this a celebration to remember!
