

October 16, 2023

So having said that we are off and running when September meetings started again, I did not know that I would be running quite this much. I must thank all those who helped out with our Fall Diocesan meeting. It was very successful with 114 people attending that day. There were good presentations from our guest speakers, with a lot of questions after. I wish I could expand a bit more on the presentations but unfortunately was occupied with being the Diocesan Treasurer and also overseeing the day so that things ran smoothly.

My next challenge has been hosting the small tea parties to all of you. These parties have been excellent, providing feedback, suggestions and most of all a time to get to know each other a little better. It was also a time to meet more of your fellow sisters that you might not normally talk to. I still have 3 more days of these meetings and have a few time slots left to fill. If you have not been able to connect with me and wish to attend, please come and see me after the meeting. Once I have finished all of my partying, I will be recapping all of the information that I have gathered.

This month is about thanksgiving and as I wind down my position as president, I am thankful that we have such a large number of members. I am thankful that we are able to help out others at home and abroad, just like our league prayer says. I am thankful that I have made new friendships with such wonderful ladies.

But most of all I am thankful that we live in Canada and that we have religious freedom and we live for the most part in peace and harmony. The news lately has been difficult to listen to but it must remind us that our world needs prayer now more than ever....and lets us all be thankful for what we have.
